

Nuntium

-A Publication of Providence Classical School-

Classroom Snapshots: 4th Grade Literature

At PCS, we are proud of the academic excellence shown by our students. From kindergarteners to seniors in high school, our students excel in their studies, and our teachers find ways to make learning an enjoyable experience.

Our 4th grade students, taught by Mrs. Barclay and Mrs. Oliver, recently completed the reading of C.S Lewis' beloved classic, The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe. The culmination of their study is a skit re-telling the story for parents, schoolmates, and friends. The students worked hard memorizing and rehearsing their lines and preparing costumes. They did a beautiful job bringing the story of Aslan, the Pevensie children, and the Narnians to life!

PCS Students Serving the Community

PCS and Eastside Baptist Church hosted a fall festival aimed at building the community between the school, the church, and families in the Rock Hill area. Each house at PCS was responsible to run games and activities throughout the day including pumpkin bowling, facing painting, and a dunk tank. Our upper school students served with love and cheerful hearts, and the event was a huge success!

Fall Sports Recap

Our soccer, cross country, and volleyball teams finished their seasons this month. Our young soccer team put forth a great effort and grew in areas of skill and sportsmanship. The cross country team took home first and second overall placements for both middle school and high school, with several students earning top spots at the conference run-off. Our volleyball teams had a fantastic season as well. The middle school team finished third in the conference tournament, while the varsity team finished second in the conference and in the league. For the first time ever, our varsity girls earned a bid to the CSAA state tournament! They made it to the championship round after defeating the number one seed and finished 2nd in the state overall. Way to go, Paladins!

Message from the Head of School

At PCS our mission is to partner with parents to train the hearts, souls, and minds of our students. The classical approach allows us to accomplish this in a time-honored and proven way, keeping academics at the forefront of what we do. With that said, there are many extracurricular activities that contribute to our mission, and the fall sports season has demonstrated this beautifully. From programs that are in the building phase like our soccer team to our highly competitive cross-country and volleyball teams that placed at or near the top of our league, athletics builds character and camaraderie as few activities can. We are incredibly proud of all our student-athletes and are grateful for the lessons they learn through competition and being part of a team. Please pray for Brandon Eiff as he continues to lead PCS Athletics and for the Lord to provide the space and facilities we need as our sports program and our student enrollment continue to grow. If you'd like to know more about our newly launched PCS Athletic Booster Club, please visit our website.

UPCOMING EVENTS:

November 11 - Student vs. Faculty Volleyball Fundraiser, 6pm at The Shield

November 17 - Open House at 6:30pm

December 15 - Adeste Fideles Christmas Program at 7pm